

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An image processing apparatus generates playlist data based on a specified playback procedure, and generates date information of the playlist data based on date information regarding image data specified in the playlist data. The playlist data and the date information of the playlist data are recorded in association with each other on a recording medium.